MOB SPIRIT WANES

Stranded Husband of Hansell
Daughter Held For Further Probe

(By the Associated Press)
IDABEL, April 28.—Five members of the family of T. H. Hansell, who were slain in their beds at the Hansell farm house near Haworth Thursday night, were buried in a little cemetery at Pollard late today.

Meanwhile McCurtain county officers were winding up their investigations of the killing with promises that murder charges would probably be filed tomorrow.

Four men are held in connection with the case. They are: John Pope, estranged husband of Hansell's daughter and "Red" Harvey, who were arrested over her Texas fine near Clydeville and A. L. Miller and Ira Gardner, who were taken by a posse in the Red River bottoms near the Texas border.

Miller and Gardner are being held in the county jail here. Sheriff J. R. Jones left today for Clydeville to bring Pope and Harvey to Idabel.

County officials refused tonight to discuss the evidence on which the arrests were made. Assistant county attorney Hudson said, however, that by tomorrow a statement could be made.

Mob feeling had cooled today and authorities expect no violence. Those buried in the Pollard cemetery were: T. H. Hansell, his wife, Nannie Hansell, his daughter; Mrs. Lida B. Pope, Aubrey Hansell, seven years old, and Hubert Pope, 13 months old.

Three Members Survive
Three members of the family survive: Bennie Hansell, 15, who was protected from the assassin's bullets by the body of Mrs. Pope; R. Hansell, 3, who hid behind a door, and Henry Hansell four months old, whose body was shielded by that of Aubrey Hansell. Aubrey Hansell died early today.

Meanwhile Sheriff Richard Jones of McCurtain county is preparing to leave for Clydeville, Tex. where two men are under arrest charged with murder in connection with the killing. The men are: John W. Pope, estranged husband of Hansell's daughter, who was slain, and "Red" Harvey, his alleged friend. Both were arrested late yesterday near Clydeville.

Sheriff Jones announced that he would bring them to Idabel at once unless they demanded extradition. A coroner's jury held an inquest over the bodies last night at the Hansell home. It returned a verdict of death at the hand of unknown persons. It recommended a full investigation of all under arrest. The inquest was held by the light of kerosene lamps. Members of the jury made their way through the woods to the house by foot, a steady rain which continued through the inquest making it impossible to reach the spot with motor cars.

TEACHERS TAKE EXAMS FOR CERTIFICATES HERE

Twenty teachers of Pontotoc county and 18 East Central State Teachers college students took examinations in the office of County Superintendent A. Floyd here Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week for life certificates to teach.

Majority of College students taking the examinations were from adjoining counties.

None of those taking the examinations are applicants for teachers jobs in the county. Practically all teachers for county schools have been employed, according to County Superintendent Floyd. Approximately 140 teachers will be employed in the county under the charge of the county superintendent next year.

Superintendent Floyd announced that an average reduction of 5 per cent in the salary of teachers would be made for the next year. The salary reduction depends on the school fund of the district, which are in most instances paying the maximum for school maintenance.

CLARKE CLAIMS U.S. MUST HAVE PART IN LEAGUE

Claims Present Prosperity Is Only Sporadic and Cannot Last Long

ASKS LEAGUE SUPPORT

Refutes Claim that Britain
Would Have Greater
League Voice

(By the Associated Press)
MINNEAPOLIS, April 28.—The present apparent prosperity is sporadic and cannot be permanent until the European markets are restored to the American farmer John H. Clarke, former justice of the supreme court, and proponent of the League of Nations, declared in an address tonight. In praising the league and endorsing President Harding's proposal for American participation in the world court of justice he declared that isolation was impossible for the United States with responsibility for the Philippine Islands, the Panama Canal, its great commerce, and its policy of the "open door" in Asia and Africa.

He expressed the opinion that the proposed reservations would meet the objections of some persons that to join the world court would "carry the United States into the league of Nations." A second objection is that Great Britain would have a greater voice than the United States in the election of judges. Of this he said:

"The other objection is that Great Britain would have six votes in the election of judges of the court to our one. This objection rests wholly on the base, unworthy assumption that the representatives of these great friendly commonwealths would corruptly combine with the mother country and in an attempt to corruptly elect corrupt judges to render corrupt decisions—for this is what the insinuation really means."

He explained that the judges must be nominated by the representatives of the various nations in the Hague Tribunal of which the United States has long been a member, and must be elected by a clear majority in both the council and assembly of the league of nations.

GARY OFFICIALS GIVEN SENTENCES BY STATE

(By the Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, April 28.—Final steps toward breaking up of an alleged liquor ring which has involved several leading officials and individuals of Gray was taken by the United States court here today when it sentenced 52 men and women to fines and terms of imprisonment.

They were convicted by a jury March 31 following a trial at which government witnesses testified that protection was given liquor law violators by political leaders for assistance at the polls. Stories of graft from liquor dealers were also reported. The sentences ran from one day to one year and six months in prison and fines as high as $2000 were assessed.

Roswell C. Johnson, mayor of Gary, received the stiffest sentence, one year and six months, in the federal prison at Atlanta and fined $2,000. Sentences of a year and a day were given Lewis Barnes, former sheriff of Lake county, and commissioner of public works of Gary, William Drew, judge of the city court, until after his conviction, and Blaz Lucas, Gary attorney. The men were also fined $1,000 each.

NORTH TEXAS JOINED IN RATES CASE ROW

(By the Associated Press)
DALLAS, Texas, April 28.—A formal attack by shippers of North Texas against all interstate rates from points east of the Mississippi river was made in a brief filed before the interstate commerce commission by A. L. Reed, traffic manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce today.

A hearing had been set for Chicago May 8. Mr. Reed's announcement that the request would be made that the Texas protest be attached to the Oklahoma rate case brought a vigorous protest from Paul Walker, attorney for the corporation commission of Oklahoma who declared that the case would be delayed two or three months while it was being made ready to submit.

Commissioner Disque said he was in no position to say what action would be taken on the request that the two cases be combined. No definite date was set for a final hearing on the Oklahoma case but it is expected that the interstate commerce commission will soon announce the date of the final hearing.

SCORE HELD FOR PITTSBURG PLOT

While Bail Being Granted
Cards Tell of Speaking
Dates for Foster

(By the Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, April 28.—Bail ranging from $1,000 to $50,000 was fixed by county authorities today in the cases of 24 men arrested during the widespread radical raids in Allegheny county last night. While prosecuting officers were going over the question of bond hundreds of Pittsburgh residents received through the mail cards announcing that "William Z. Foster's first local appearance since his Michigan trial" would speak here on May 2 under the auspices of the "labor defense council." The cards were contained in envelopes bearing the house address where Fred Merriek, socialist editor and writer, was arrested last night. His bail was set at $50,000, the largest sum demanded in any of the cases.

Sixteen of the prisoners were taken before an alderman today and held on similar charges.

The prisoners, according to the authorities had planned a big May day demonstration in Allegheny county. District attorney S. H. Gardner announced that the raids would continue until every one suspected is in jail.

Among those taken were Joe Balistreri, a printer; Fred Merriek a former editor; and George Kapsalis of Chicago, all declared by the authorities to have been active in communist activities.

A large quantity of illegal literature was captured by the officers. It included subscription blanks for funds for the aid of men arrested in Michigan, lists of contributors, portfolios, trunks, suit cases, bags and boxes. Several rooms in the courthouse were used to store the captured material.

Harding Talks On Problems Facing Newspaper Men

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 28.—Editor Warren G. Harding talked shop with his fellowcraftsmen tonight at the banquet of the newly formed American Association of Newspaper Editors.

The one hundred newspaper men from all parts of the country who had been threshing out problems ranging from a code of ethics for journalism to the use of boiler plate and the work expected of a cub reporter, invited Mr. Harding to give his views of the vexing problems, which he did informally. John Davis, president of the American Bar Association, also talked to them on "The Press and the Constitution."

Accuracy and truthfulness combined in a policy of non-partisanship, the editors agreed today, should be the aim of the newspaper association.

DUNCAN REFUTES SOLVENCY CLAIM IN FAILED BANK

Declares Wolf's Report That
Comanche Bank Solvent
Is Political Jab

SAYS NOTES WORTHLESS

Claims Waurika Judge Passed
On All Orders Passed
By Agent

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28.—The statement that the State Bank of Comanche was solvent when it was closed was denied before the house bank investigating committee here today by J. L. Duncan, former liquidating agent of the Comanche Bank.

Wolf, who succeeded Duncan as liquidating agent for the bank, had testified that in his opinion the bank was solvent when its doors were closed. Wolf declared that the bank was solvent at the time it failed but that it is no longer so "by reason of the fact of its assets having been dissipated and unnecessary expenses had been paid."

Wolf denied that he had said that the bank was still solvent. Duncan told investigators that if Wolf could make the bank pay cut he stood ready to pay back the $12,000 he had collected for his services as liquidating agent.

"It is not true that the bank was solvent when it closed," Duncan said.

"The officials of the bank closed it after notifying the state banking commission that they had on hand approximately $2,500 in checks that they could not pay."

"There is now approximately $95,000 of worthless paper among the assets of the bank and Wolf knows this to be true. He is an officer of the state republican organization and is simply making medicine out of the bank failure."

"While I was liquidating agent all notes were renewed, collected, or judgment obtained. Judge Cham Jones of Waurika, now a supreme court commissioner, passed on every order for sale of notes."

Of the $95,000 in class as worthless paper in bank notes not more than 35 or 40 per cent can ever be collected."

Duncan said that the fee paid W. C. Lewis, state senator, for legal services, was $2900 and not $29,000 as has been stated.

Duncan testified that he received 15 per cent or collections as his fee.

When he took charge of the bank Duncan said $58,000 of securities belonging to it had been hypothecated. A total of $57,000 had been borrowed from other banks. "All of this $57,000 owed to other banks was due when the bank closed, August 7, 1922," he testified. "I immediately opened negotiations with the banks to which the money was due to wait until the money was cleaned up from the bank had been cleaned up from the loans to meet these debts. There was in the bank when I took charge only about $95,000 worth of paper belonging to the bank. Of this approximately $45,000 was in the form of accommodation paper."

VIOLENCE SHOWN WHEN AUTO RUNS OVER BOY

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28.—Carl Bergman, 12 year old son of J. H. Bergman, local real estate dealer, was run down by an automobile here late today and is not expected to live.

J. E. Noble, former pastor of the First Christian Church at Ralston, was arrested and later charged with driving the car. Officers declared that he was intoxicated.

After striking the boy and dragging him home distance, the car did not stop, according to the police report. Spectators hurled bricks at the car. One man threw a pair of pliers through the windshield. The license number was reported to the police and this led to Noble's arrest.

Police found Noble some blocks away from the scene of the accident at the office of a physician where he had gone to have his ear dressed. His ear was nearly torn off.

A bullet hole was found in the rear of the car. The Bergman boy suffered a double fracture of the skull, according to physicians.

One favorite All Fool's Day joke of the 18th century was to send a rustic to the bookstore for a "History of Eve's Grandmother."

CHINA TO APOLOGIZE FOR AMERICAN'S DEATH

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 28.—China has agreed to make restitution for the killing by Chinese soldiers last December of Charles Colman, an American, an incident which greatly strained the good relations between the Washington and Peking governments.

As a result of prolonged negotiations between American minister Schurman and Peking officials it has been agreed that a suitable apology will be made, that the military authorities in command of the offending troops be removed from office, and that the heirs of Colman be paid an indemnity to be fixed by the American government.

Although official notification of the agreement had not been received today at the state department it is known to have reached the hands of diplomatic representatives here and is expected to be delivered to Secretary Hughes next week.

LODGE DISTURBS HARDING'S PLAN

Senator Intimates Reservation
May Be Asked on Floor
By Legislators

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 28.—A suggestion that the senate may propose some reservations of its own before it assents to "join a court elected by the council and assembly of the League of Nations," was advanced tonight by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the foreign relations committee and senate floor leader of his party.

The reservations put forward by the administration as a part of President Harding's plan for membership in the world court are highly important, the senator said, but added that it would remain for the senate itself to decide its attitude toward "participation in the league court."

Without referring directly to the differences which have arisen on the subject among republican leaders he declared that he naturally wanted to see President Harding re-elected and believed that after there has been a careful consideration of the "league court problem a satisfactory adjustment can be reached."

"The views of the foreign relations chairman were contained in a letter written by him in response to a telegram from Governor Hyde of Missouri and made public here."

(By the Associated Press)

The hearing had been in progress three days and was characterized chiefly by testimony strongly opposed to the measure. ## AGED MINNESOTA STATESMAN DIES ON BOARD TRAIN

Senator Knute Nelson Found
Dead on Pennsylvania
Passenger Train

VETERAN IN SENATE

Judiciary Committee Chairman Was Active in Affairs at Washington

(By the Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—The Pennsylvania railroad reports that United States Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota died on a train en route from Washington to Chicago after leaving Baltimore tonight.

According to the railroad company Senator Nelson was found dead on the train which left Washington at 6:54 p. m. The company arranged to have the body taken from the train at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, Penn., April 28.—United States Senator Knute Nelson died on a Pennsylvania railway train at 8:15 o'clock tonight when on the way from Washington to Chicago where he was to have continued his way to his home in Minnesota.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The death of Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota on a train en route to Chicago removes from the senate its oldest member and one of those with the longest service record. He was 80 years old and served 28 years in the senate.

Senator Nelson was seriously ill last winter from an attack of flu but so far recovered that he was able to attend the last session of Congress. When he left Washington he appeared in excellent health but friends closest to him said he had never been recovered from the shock of his wife's death.

Senator Nelson was a Civil War veteran and during the world war championed legislation looking to zealous prosecution of the war grifters.

He was chairman of the judiciary committee and a member of the commerce commission.

Under the rules of seniority Senator Dillingham, republican of Vermont, would succeed to the chairmanship of the judiciary committee.

Senator Nelson's present term would have expired in 1925. President Harding received news of the sudden death of the senator while attending a dinner today given by the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

RAIN CALLS OFF MEET AT SHAWNEE

Guadrangle Track Meet Called Off Because of Heavy Rains

Old Jupe Pluvius frowned down with drizzling glee on athletes from four colleges in the southern section of the state who had assembled at Shawnee for the annual quadrangle meet and passed his final decree that they would not indulge in their annual sports. Friday.

As a result of the continued rains, which made the athletic field at Shawnee a veritable mudhole, the annual meet was postponed for the year.

Athletic teams from East Central College, Southeastern college of Durant, Oklahoma Baptist University of Shawnee and Oklahoma City college of Oklahoma City assembled on the field and matched their strength in the first events but officials decreed that the meet could not be held.

Owing to injuries and several other mishaps, East Central sent its lightest team in years to compete for honors. College coaches, however, believe that the athletes, representing the school would have made a commendable showing.

Tennis matches in connection with the quadrangle meet were taken to Oklahoma City when the Oklahoma City College agreed to bear the expenses of the meet if the annual matches were held on Oklahoma City courts. Tennis matches were to have been played off Saturday.

As a forerunner to the meet, the East Central College baseball team took an easy victory from the Shawnee Baptists Friday afternoon at Shawnee.

Delbert Munson, an apple packer of Brewster, Wash., set a world's record packing 378 boxes in nine hours and forty minutes.

How to Double Your Life

A life time should not be measured by hours lived, but by deeds done.

To some a lifetime means the period in which they can render the greatest possible service to mankind.

To others the period when they can achieve the greatest possible success and fame.

To wives and mothers it is often the measure of love and happiness with which they can endow their families and direct their future.

Whatever a lifetime means to you, remember that time and distance are the chief obstacles to achieving your heart's desire.

By halving their opposition you double your life and double your chief capital—TIME—because you double the possible achievements and earning power of your lifetime.

for Economical Transportation —is the world's great conservator and developer of human energy, because it is the most economical form of individual transportation. It transports you here and there quickly and comfortably, saving mind and body for the work to be done.

It broadens your mental and material horizon, makes you a force over an area you could not possibly cover except by automobile.

It saves you money by saving valuable time. It also affords the advantage and pleasure of transporting your family or fellow-workers and your luggage or tools at the same time, making you independent of tracks, timetables, seasons and even main highways.

If you lack a Chevrolet, you are behind the evolution of economical transportation.

Christ Knocking at the Heart.

By Rev. P. G. Davis

"Behold I stand at the door, and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me." Rev. 3:20.

I Let us Notice the Gospel Call.

The scene introduced is the Christ knocking at the door of our hearts for an entrance. The human heart is considered as a house. It was intended for God to dwell in. The door of the heart is that faculty known as the will. It is not enough that our judgment approves. The will must consent before we can be saved.

II Let us Notice the Gospel Duty

"If any man hear my voice, and open the door." The knock is the Savior's part, to open the door is our part. Christ will perform his work. Let us perform our plain duty by opening to him. If Christ never knocked the will would never open. It is in consequence of the merits of Christ that light is come into the world. The will is not to be coerced; it is to yield to the tender pleadings of a loving Christ.

The call is to you today; we have nothing to do with tomorrow. To open the door is to submit to the gospel method. It requires a fixed attention to the things of God. Hence we are urged to listen when the voice of Christ speaks to us through the Word of God. We should attend to the call today.

III Let us Notice the Gospel Promise.

The blessings of the gospel are introduced to us under various similitudes; here called a supper.

(1) He that admits, Christ into his heart shall feast on his pardoning love. His sins shall be remembered no more.

(2) Christ will bring him peace and holiness.

(3) You shall have fellowship with the children of God at the Lord's table, in the house of God, in prayer and in service.

(4) If faithful, you shall feast with Christ in a better world.

By admitting Christ we are all promised that heaven will be opened to us at the end of the way.

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR YOUNG WRITER FROM RUPERT HUGHES

Young authors who have become too familiar with rejection slips should take courage from the example of Rupert Hughes, who can now sell everything he writes at tremendous prices. But 'twas not always so.

When Mr. Hughes was a fledgling he determined to keep all his rejection slips so he could show them to editors after he had become famous.

"I kept this up until I had something like 2,000," said the author, "then it became necessary either to move out onto the fire escape or to throw the slips away. I decided on the latter course."

Ada Amateurs Ready For Sunday Tilt With Wilson Co, Team of Oklahoma City

With the view of staging a comeback over the past two defeats at the hands of the Duncan team here Sunday and Monday of last week, the Ada Amateurs are prepared for their tilt with the Wilson company team of Oklahoma City here Sunday afternoon at the City Park.

No cog has been left loose in the machine of Ada's Amateur squad was the final ultimatum passed out by A. O. Green, manager, Saturday when he announced the lineup for the game.

Although the team has lost several days practice because of heavy rains, the team has taken advantage of the spare moments of sunshine and swung in shape for the tilt here Sunday.

Manager Green figures in no changes in the lineup for the Sunday games, believing that the few weak spots will be overcome with steady practice and teamwork. The team will come in its regular batting order with Lefty Williams as the pivot man to direct the destiny of Sunday's game.

Williams was in excellent condition for the game and his showing in the final game with the Duncan club indicated that Lefty still maintained some of his old-time tricks for the discretion of Joe Lee, whose performance at the receiving end of the Williams-Lee machine is causing much favorable comment in Ada fan quarters.

The Ada nine has something to look forward to outside of their intention of breaking their losing streak in the Sunday game. A string of attractive prizes had been offered by Ada business men to individuals of the Ada team for various accomplishments on the diamond.

Attractive Prizes Offered

Fred Schrieber will present the home players getting the first hit, scoring the first run and getting the first base on balls with tickets entitling them to cleaning and pressing of one suit. M. C. Taylor company will give a $5 wool hat to the first player on the home club that hits a fair ball over the fence. Earl Dunn will give $1 in barber work for the first ball over the fence. A. O. Green will present a can of glue to the first player on the home club to muffle a ball.

Favorable weather conditions of Saturday is expected to put the diamond in excellent condition, Green stated today.

The Wilson company team is reputed to be one of the best amateur teams of the state, the team having defeated El Reno and Ponca City in the Oklahoma State league during the season.

COLLEGE DEBATE TEAMS WINNERS

Northeastern and Southeastern Lose to East Central in Friday Matches.

Debaters of East Central won a double victory Friday evening, defeating Northeastern at Tahlequah here and Southeastern at Durant and winning a unanimous decision in each instance. A week ago the girls' team defeated the girls of O. B. U. here also by a unanimous decision and a week hence will meet the one from Oklahoma City College.

The question under discussion Friday evening was: Resolved, that the United States should cancel the allied debts contracted during the world war and due the United States. Ada had the negative in the debate against Tahlequah. Ada speakers were Ferris Willingham and Dwight H. Smith. Tahlequah was represented by Miss Ruby Heard and George Croom. The judges were C. W. Getham, principal of the Oklahoma City high school, A. H. Abbott, secretary of the state board of education, and J. J. Miller, professor of mathematics at the O. C. W. of Chickasha.

At Durant Ada championed the affirmative. The team was composed of T. K. Treadwell and Gordon Harrell. This is the first time that Ada has won a debate staged at Durant.

The judges of the debate at Durant were Mr. E. E. Brown, assistant state superintendent of public instruction; Mr. Bradle, professor of English, Austin College, Sherman, Texas; and Mr. L. W. Neaton, professor of history, North Texas State Normal school, Denton, Texas. The decision of these gentlemen was unanimously in favor of East Central. At Durant as at Ada, East Central won because of superior constructive argument and greater skill in rebuttal.

John Zimmerman, Coach
The credit for the splendid record made by East Central this year in debating is due primarily to the skill and ability of the three debating teams, but it is due in no small degree to the direction that these debaters had from Mr. John Zimmerman, debate coach. Mr. Zimmerman began early in the present semester with a systematic course of assigned readings, and with almost constant practice in debating; and when the six representatives were chosen they had a grasp of their subject, together with a skill in delivery that was well nigh invincible.

A record of three debates won by unanimous decisions in each case has seldom been equaled by any educational institution, and East Central has every reason to feel proud of the young men and women who have represented her in this type of intellectual contest this year.

East Central is especially proud of Coach Zimmerman, who was a member of the first degree class of this institution, and is, therefore, a product of East Central. His success in developing debating teams which have defeated schools that have made a record in debating in the past, is an achievement of which any young man might well feel proud.

PURCELL CLAIMS TENNIS MATCHES

Three First Honors Go To
Purcell; Tishomingo
Wins One

After having been delayed for a week on account of rain the annual district tournament took place today on the college courts and the concrete court of Mr. K. A. Norris. Only four teams competed in any event.

Purcell showed up best in the tournament, taking three first places with Tishomingo taking one first. Purcell won first in the boys singles and doubles matches and girls' doubles. Tishomingo won the girls' singles.

Considerable interest was manifested on the sidelines and a large number of spectators viewed the contests. At the end of the final battle medals were awarded the winners.

In the boys singles matches, Raymond Homer of Roff first won over Ben Anderson of Davis 10-9; 6-2, and later defeated Dick Simpson of Ada in a closely fought battle 6-0; 4-6; 6-2. Marion Tomlin of Purcell later played Homer in the final round and won by a score of 7-5; 6-3.

In the boys doubles Ada, represented by Paul Rayburn and Jackie Wright won from Roff, players. Raymond Homer and Linder Fairchild 2-6; 6-3; 6-4, then lost to Purcell 5-7; 6-4; 6-3. Marion Tomlin and Stanley Blanchard of Purcell then defeated Ben Anderson and Frank Kelley for the finals 6-3; 6-2.

Vivian Wilcoxson and Dorothy Blanchard of Purcell defeated Thelma Whayne and Dorothy Adams of Tishomingo in a hotly contested match by a score of 6-3; 5-7; 6-3. In the finals with the only other team entered Purcell easily won from Faye Laird and Jewel Irwin of Ada, 6-1; 6-0; 6-1.

Thelma Whayne of Tishomingo started her march to the honors in girls' singles by defeating Dorothy Ellis of Davis 7-5; 6-2. Next she won from Faye Laird of Ada 6-1; 6-0. In the finals she defeated Dorothy Blanchard of Purcell 6-0; 6-1.

It was planned to include in the tournament matches for teachers of this district, but most of the entries were not able to be here and there was not enough time to play off any matches after the high school tournament. The teachers tournament may be scheduled later for the beginning of the summer term of the college.

Ever since the big leagues began to cavort on their home lots the typer of these lines has been tryin' to get the scores and dope ahead of the next mornin' papers so as to have it on the rest of the guys via the radio. But tonight I had better luck. I got both of the American and the National leagues includin' them that was rained out. ## BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

JESUS PREACHER AND HELPER:—Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.—Matthew 4:23.

CONGRATULATIONS

The News is highly pleased with the record made this year by the debating teams of East Central. Three teams have met other schools and in each instance won the decision by a unanimous vote of the judges. Prof. John Zimmerman coached the teams and the results indicate that he did a good job. However, as Mr. Zimmerman himself in an East Central product it might have been expected.

Then there is the district track meet held a week ago. From all over the district athletes and literary contestants came and he affair was the best of the kind ever pulled off here. To E. C. Wilson belongs much of the credit for the success of this event. He was one of the originators of the organization and from a small beginning the first year has made it an important factor in keeping in touch with the schools of the district. The young people come early to look upon East Central as their friend and begin to look forward to the time when they themselves will be a part of the student body. Some schools have gone wild on athletics to the exclusion of literary merit, but East Central maintains a well balanced policy which gives everything its proper status.

In the days of Martin Luther men who fancied themselves learned made a practice of wasting much valuable time in arguing over non-essentials and letting the fundamentals alone. This has in recent times given way to a considerable extent to more practical things, but a few still persist in the old practice. Recently these controversialists were given a jolt at a gridiron banquet by the University club of For Worth. A violent argument for and against evolution was staged by opposing groups. Finally an old colored preacher appeared and was asked for an expression of his opinion. "Us niggers don't know much about where we come from or how we got here, but what we want to know is where is we gwine to." Of course this rebuke would apply equally as well to any other unprofitable discussion where no one would be convinced and no profit could come of any amount of argument pro or con.

Capper's Weekly is pushing a fight on sugar speculators. It urged all families to buy sparingly and, above all, not to rush in and buy up a lot to hoard for fear it may go higher. The Weekly says there is an immense surplus in sight, instead of a scarcity, and if the people limit their buying the sugar gamblers will have to unload at reduced prices before long. The paper states that it is receiving many letters from people everywhere saying they have enlisted in the fight and are on a buyers' strike. Capper also says that the main guys of the game are unloading on the retailers, just as they did in the raid of three years ago, and when they get out from under, the retailers will be left with the bag to hold.

HOPPERS NO CHOPPERS

Big Springs, Texas, proposes a long-distance weed-chopping contest. This is evidenced the rise of common-sense to the occasion of turning a mania to utilitarian purpose. It is doubtful, however, whether we shall see any of the marathon dancers swinging a hoe for these new honors. It is one of the essential qualities of a mania that it is of no human use whatever.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The row that some of the European countries are raising over the concessions granted to the American syndicate by the Turkish government indicates that although they want Uncle Sam to help them out of the general muddle, they don't want him picking up any plums that they have their eyes on. Their idea is that American participation in European affairs should be limited to making loans which they cannot or will not repay.

Perhaps the suggestion of dollar gasoline made at the time of the senate investigation of the oil business was only hot air, but the oil concerns have spent a lot of money since then getting out literature to assure the public that such a condition will never come about. Looks like somebody got a scare.

And now comes a hard-boiled guy who suggests that since Harding has bought a farm he can buy fertilizer cheap from Henry Ford at Muscle Shoals when Henry has displaced Warren in the White House and the latter takes up his duties as a farmer.

Press reports from Dublin state that the war in Ireland will end tomorrow by order of Eamonn deValera. However, about a dozen peace treaties have been signed during the past two years, so the public will await developments before accepting the report at face value.

The Weaker Vessels.

(Shawnee News)
It used to be that when a girl looked up dreamily and murmured: "Oh, I could dance with you forever!" her partner knew she was only indulging in a figure of speech. But now—

Well, a Houston (Texas) girl danced sixty-five hours and thirty minutes the other night—or the night and day and night and day and night, rather—and is reported to have finished strong. Probably she only quit then because her shoes were worn out or in order to attend the funeral of the trap drummer of the orchestra which started out to accompany her.

The heroine of this thrilling story it appears, was inspired by a noble ambition. She wanted to establish a world's record which would be unbroken for at least a week.

It all started over in England, it appears. Some girl there astonished the world by dancing a whole hour or so without stopping. Then she had to take second—then seventy-second—place for folks who could really dance, until a Scotch girl was heralded as world's champion with an unbeatable record. She had actually danced the clock around twice, and then some—more than twenty-four hours.

But, even as she was being photographed, so that her picture might be placed on every package of Scotch oats to prove how much pep and vigor came from them, another Scotch girl danced thirty.

Not till then, to judge by dispatches, did America really become interested. But, as soon as that thirty-hour stunt was cabled to this land of champions, a new York girl broke it. Then a Cleveland salesgirl, used to being on her feet all day and dancing all night, put all European competition out of the running by tripping the more fantastic than light for fifty-three hours, plus. And so on, till this Houston girl started out for a week-end dance and almost made it a week dance.

It is easy to foresee the finish of all except mechanical orchestras if this goes on.

But if the musicians don't start a movement against it the women's organizations should, for it's going to mean the final annihilation of that chivalry women love. Why shouldn't women who can dance sixty-five hours at a stretch get up and give their seats in street cars to tired business men? Why shouldn't the feminine and masculine line positions in 100 daily occurrences be transposed by this startling revelation of the marvelous strength and endurance woman has been concealing from us all these years? And so on ad infinitum.

How times have changed since woman was "the weaker vessel!"

MOTORISTS FIGHT INDEMNITY BOND

National Motorists Association in Arms Against State Legislative Action.

State legislatures now in session and contemplating a "state of bond" for automobile operators will be obliged to achieve their aims over the concerted and vigorous opposition of the National Motorists Association, according to a statement just issued by the great nation-wide organization of car owners.

The plans of a number of state legislatures against which the force of the N. M. A. is particularly leveled call for compulsory liability insurance or an indemnity bond for all car operators. Efforts along these lines thus far made in a number of state legislatures have been thwarted, says the statement, due to prompt action on the part of the M. A. legislative committee.

"We are not disbelievers in sound public liability coverage for car owners," states Executive Secretary Fred H. Caley, "and we are now engaged in preparing literature of an educational nature pointing out to motorists the value of such protection and how to choose it, but forcing motorists under 'bondage' is just a little too un-American and too much in favor of special interests for us to stand idly by and see such legislation put across."

"During the past several months there has been waged an insidious campaign to make motor car ownership increasingly difficult. At present we are deep into an investigation to find out just who is behind it and we hope to show, shortly from whence the propaganda emanates."

The compulsory insurance propaganda, if successful, would place all car operators under bonds ranging from three to ten thousand dollars, it is said.

Boy Scout News

Thirty-two scouts out to a meeting is the record in Ada. This was the number of scouts present at the meeting of troop No. Four and Five under Mr. Roy Meeks.

This troop had planned a fishing trip out on the Canadian river but it looks now as though they would have to call it off on account of the rain.

Monday evening after school all the scouts of troop four and five, who are interested in getting a merit badge on "bee keeping" and all other scouts of any other troop interested in this subject should come to Roy Meeks' home, 901 East Tenth right after school Monday evening. County Agent J. B. Hill will be there and he will show the boys, the inside of the hives, tell the scouts how they work, how to tell when they are ready to swarm, and many very interesting things about bees.

Prof. Hatcher of East Central Teachers college went with the scout executive to Union Valley and Stonewall Tuesday where he spoke on Birds and their habits. Prof. Hatcher is a very qualified authority on birds and on animals, and he knows how to tell boys all about them in a very interesting and instructive way. We expect to have him come before the scoutmasters soon and give them a talk on the birds of Oklahoma. No scout in this county has any reason for not passing his Bird study merit badge as long as we have such a fine authority on this very interesting subject.

Just as soon as it is agreeable to the scoutmasters of Ada we will begin a training class for scoutmasters and also for assistants. We will try to get each scoutmaster take all the scout tests of the ten-foot, second class and first class rank. We hope to get several scoutmasters from the county in on this too.

Troop No. 10 will have a new scoutmaster from no on account of the compelled absence of Rev. Widney from town due to church duties. Gilbert Pilly will assume active charge of the troop right away.

Troop No. 7 and troop No. 4 and 5 played a baseball game this week. The score was 12 to 11 in favor of troop 4 and 5.

The result of the Life of Christ examination contest is as follows: First Methodist, Delphin Bowles of troop 4, won first place.

Lawrence Weaver of troop No. 1 won second place.

First Presbyterian, Ed Gwin of troop No. 4 won first place.

First Christian Edwin Gatlin of troop No. 10 won first place.

attend the Citizens Military Training Camp this summer can get application blank by applying at the Chamber of Commerce.

We buy second hand furniture, paying best prices. Phone 438 Shelton Furniture Co. 11-9-41

Mrs. William Newton and son, Cly, left Friday afternoon to join the Honest Bill show in Missouri. These shows have been delayed on account of not getting the tents and may not get started as soon as expected, according to word received in Ada. The other Newton children will remain in Ada until after the close of school.

Robert Neathery of troop No. 2 won second place.
Nazarene Church, Hoyt Pryor won first place, Troop No. 9.
Oak Avenue church, Glen Lin-scott, first and Orel Russell and Dolen Todd tied for second.
Raymond Duke second place, Troop 10.

First Baptist church, Geo. Kitchell of troop 9 won 1st place.
Earl Yates of troop No. 2 won 2nd place.

Owing to the fact that the examinations of some of the scouts in one or two of the Sunday schools were not up to the standards which the ministers thought should be maintained, the examinations will be held over. This will give other scouts another opportunity to stand the examination. Scouts should remember that a medal will be awarded to the scout in each Sunday school, who passes the best written examination. You can get the questions by seeing the scout executive at the Chamber of Commerce.

Oakman Scouts did their good turn last week when the dam at the old cotton gin pond broke owing to the surplus water from the recent rains and the fish took advantage of the occasion and went over the dam with the water and landed in the adjacent field and got stranded in the grass. The scouts and Mr. Lester Lillard scoutmaster took buckets and gathered up the fish and put them back in the pond.

Camping time is just a few weeks off now and many plans are being made for the summer camps. We have already lined up several men here in Ada who will make our summer camps more attractive than ever. Now is the time to join the scouts or to re-register. Meet us at the chamber of commerce. Ada must register 300 scouts this year and Pontotoc County wants to maintain its strong lead in the state. We have many fine plans ahead for the scouts.

LINSCHIED SPEAKS AT LATTA SCHOOL EXERCISE

The Latta Consolidated school ended its first full nine months term Friday with a big work day and a picnic dinner. The graduating exercises for the eighth grade graduates were held Thursday evening, Dr. Linscheid delivering the address.

Fourteen young people were graduated Thursday evening. The program consisted of music, readings and the address of Mr. Linscheid. The address was along the line of what it takes to make happiness, stressing the real enjoyment side of life.

Friday was a banner day. Sixteen teams were on the grounds and many patrons. The grounds were put in excellent condition and will be a place of beauty this summer and fall if present plans are carried out.

The attendance this scholastic year was 95 per cent in the high school department and 86 in the grades. This is considered unusually good.

Curtis Floyd is superintendent of the schools and will hold the same place next year.

COLLEGE SORORITIES TO PRESENT MASTER VIOLINIST HERE

Music lovers of Ada will again be permitted to drink in the musical benefits of another master violinist here Tuesday night when Alex Skovgaard, Danish master, comes to the East Central College under the auspices of the Sigma Sigma Sigma and Pi Kappa Sigma sororities of that institution.

Touched with the divine spark of soul music from the violin of the master violinist, Josef Konecny, Ada music lovers are in tune for another musical revival from such an artist as Skovgaard, whose concerts have been heard in the largest and most select music halls of this country and Europe.

The two college sororities have been complimented by the music societies of the cities in what they consider to be the largest endeavor during the year. Music clubs of the city have pledged their assistance in the undertaking.

In presenting Skovgaard, the sororities open the doors of the College to the music loving populace of Ada with the insistence that it take advantage of this musical treat.

Axel Skovgaard received his first violin instruction when he was 5 years old. At the age of fourteen, Joseph Joachim, the "King of violinists," took him as a pupil, and it was then that he definitely entered upon his career as a violin virtuoso. For three years he was a favorite pupil of this eminent master, who procured for him many special engagements, among which were his first appearances at the Royal Palace and at the Royal Academy of Music in Berlin. He was, for two years, a pupil of Carl Halir, a five year pupil of the Royal Copenhagen Conservatory of Music, and a four year pupil, with a three year free honor scholarship, of the Royal High School of Music of Berlin.

At the age of fifteen Skovgaard was first violinist in the Philharmonic Orchestra of Copenhagen. He subsequently filled positions as solo-violinist and concert-master with the Selanderska Opera of Stockholm, the Berliner Philharmonic Orchestra, and others, concertizing throughout the Scandinavian countries, Holland, Germany, England and Belgium.

In the year of 1903 Skovgaard made his first appearance in America as soloist with the New York Symphony Orchestra and this association he toured the United States and Canada. He requires no introduction to the American public, having filled more than a thousand engagements in the United States and Canada. In addition to inherent talent and a musical training, second to none, Skovgaard possesses a maturity which experience alone can impart. He plays with brain and will and brings emotional intensity under his absolute control.

Alice McClung Skovgaard, wife of the violinist, is a pianist of remarkable versatility. She not only enhances the artistry of her illustrious husband with her superb accompaniments, but renders several piano groups from the best composers, thus perfecting a diversified program of uniform excellence. Madam Skovgaard is an American by birth. She received her early musical training from her mother, who endowed her liberally with that fabled gift—the mark of genius. At three and a half years of age she gave a performance, consisting of several of Bach's fugues, before Theodore Thomas, former conductor of the well-known Thomas Orchestra of Chicago, and was pronounced by Mr. Thomas, and others to be a musical prodigy. Later she was instructed by the eminent Danish pianist, August Hyllested and other noted pianists and theorists, under whose able tutelage was perfected her phenomenal talent. Before she was eight years old, she amazed and delighted many public audiences with demonstrations of absolute pitch and other features of her marvelous musical perception.

ADDRESS OF MRS. BARTON AT SHAKESPEARIAN PRESENTATION

Turn back, if you will, and picture the world into which Shakespeare was born. See the little village on the green banks of the Avon. See the fertile farms. See the little boy on his way to school or rambling over fields and woods, getting his "nature lessons" as a child should, from nature herself. See his home, one of the better type of the village, though we would consider it a very ordinary house.

Picture Shakespeare, not yet twenty years old, on his way to London, walking, or riding on horseback, or at best riding in a lumbering coach.

Though married he was a mere boy. His school education had ended at the early age of fourteen, his brain-training, his absorption of knowledge began with his first toddling steps and continued through life.

A great impetus to learning, exploration and discovery had been started by the invention of printing about one hundred years before Shakespeare's birth and seldom, in the history of the world, has there more real progress than in the Elizabethan period in which our favorite poet lived.

The Latin nations, up to the invention of printing, were excelled in learning and invention, only by the Chinese, the East India scholars, and other Asiatic men of culture.

Gradually, since the Magna Carta had been wrested from King John, the Anglo Saxons have been gaining in their struggle for religious freedom and to throw off the yoke of oppression.

When the learning of past generations, was by printing, made accessible to them, the Anglo-Saxons were ready to assimilate the wisdom of the Bible, all then known science, medicine, astronomy, astrology, all the knowledge of ages past.

Not only that, the Anglo-Saxons were ready to take their part exploring in the then unknown world. Of their achievements I need not dwell for your histories have told you their story.

During the reign of Henry the Eighth, the yoke of catholicism was finally broken and the Magna Carta, after nearly four hundred years of struggling of the people against the dictates of a Latin Pope, was recognized and respected. It is said that during Henry's reign 150,000 Catholics were executed.

When Henry's daughter Mary, she, a devout Catholic, caused to be put to death more than 300,000 protestants.

Naturally, the survivors of these two bloody reigns, were shrewd, cautious, conservative, thoughtful men and women.

Their descendants who lived in Elizabeth's long reign, made deep and more lasting records in the world's history than any people since Moses led the Israelites from Egypt.

Our vice president, Calvin Coolidge, in a recent address, which you may have read in the April number of the Geographic Magazine, says it is recorded by the historian, Green, that in the age of Elizabeth, England became a country of one book, and that book was the Bible.

Shakespeare's hundreds of quotations and allusions to bible subjects shows his familiarity with Holy Writ.

Of our thirteen original colonies, nearly all were of Anglo-Saxon blood. They came to America to be free from the tyranny of the old world.

It has been said that "God sifted a white nation that He might send choice seed to the wilderness of America," and they and their descendants, of which we are some have carried the banner of progress in the van of civilization until this good day.

Shakespeare's mind took in everything he saw, heard or read about. In his writings he has crystallized and set in glowing gems of poetry, history, romance and ideals, he has portrayed tragedy, comedy, and all the ruling passions of men.

He has set a standard of excellence none since have reached.

He attained the peak of intellectual development.

The education of the masses, for several generations has raised, the average of intelligence, in England and America, to a higher level it is true, but have we produced, are we producing higher single types?

Burbank, the plant wizard, may, for aught I know, have found in inspiration in Shakespeare's description of "pippins of my own grafting" or in A Winter's Tale where the poet speaks of "the art of budding a carnation, in which man shares with great creating nature in producing a finer stock."

Morse, Bell, Marconi and Edison may have found inspiration in Puck's assertion that he'd "put a girdle round the earth in forty minutes."

Henry Ford must be an "original Yankee" for nothing suggestive of Ford's car can be found in Shakespeare's writings, he was too fond of field and wood to care for rapid transit.

Shakespeare, however hints at modes of fighting used in the late world's war, in Antony's boasting that he "can fight on the sea or land, fight in the fire, or in the air."

My contention is not that the world is not progressive and improving. One has but to look at this young city, started less than twenty-five years ago, and see the thousand pretty homes, housing loving parents and happy children well fed and well clothed and far more comfortable in these cottages than were the best and richest in palaces of Shakespeare's day.

We see girls and women who until one hundred years ago, were seldom taught to read and write, we see them now granted equal advantages and privileges with boys and men.

Few there are now who do not own "horseless carriages" and he is poor indeed whose wish to ride is not gratified.

Thanks to that great American, descendant of sturdy Anglo-Saxons of England, Ben Franklin, who reached the peak of American intellectual development, and the earnest workers who have harnessed the lightning he drew on his kite string from the cloud, we of the twentieth century, are served better and as quickly as was Aladdin by the slaves of the ring and lamp.

My question is this: With all our modern methods of education, equipment, and conveniences are we producing intellects greater than Shakespeare's?

Are we producing, in this age of discovery, adaptation of the forces of Nature, in this age of rapid transit, quick communication, of electricity and radio, men of sterling worth like Washington, like Lee? Men like Paul of Tarsus? Poets like Shakespeare?

Are we producing better types of men and women?

Could a common laborer, had he character, brains and ability that Lincoln had, advance to the chair of president of the United States, in this the Twentieth Century?

Will an age of poetry follow this age of accomplishment?

In this age of material blessings, this age of prosperity, are we neglecting our moral and spiritual needs?

What are the signs of the times? The righteous shall inherit the earth.

Who are the righteous?

Other races and nations have risen to world supremacy—other nations have fallen because of extravagance and materialism.

One after another the dynasties of modern Europe and Asia have fallen because of the folly, arrogance and extravagance of the ruling classes.

The Anglo-Saxon stands today in world supremacy.

Has this race too, nearly reached the zenith of its glory?

This problem, the world expects you, the rising generation to solve.

This problem you must work out right, or your world will end in chaos, as did Hamlet's.

Will "vaunting ambition" send you headlong to destruction like Shakespeare portrays so vividly in Macbeth?

Young men, will greed for "more destroy your honesty and integrity?"

Young women, will the "madness of love" lead you to disobedience, to sorrow, to death, as he pictures Romeo and Juliet, Desdemona and Othello?

Are the seven deadly sins as destructive now as when King Lear divided his kingdom?

These are problems you must solve.

We, the women of Sorosis, who fore more than twenty years have specialized on studying his works, present to your college, the East Central Teachers College of Ada, Oklahoma, to have and to hold in the library of this building, this bust of Shakespeare, and we this Sorority hope that you, each of you, will read and study his works; that you will study the problems of life in the wonderful poetry composed by his patient, far-seeing, all comprehending mind.

We, the women of Sorosis hope that this beautiful bust will to you an inspiration for the accomplishment of all that is good, and true and uplifting, and that like Atalanta, you will "choose the better part."

ARDMORE, Okla.—Bids have been called for by the city on thirty blocks of new pavement, on which work is to be started within a month, it has been announced by L. M. Thurston, city clerk. The cost of the work is expected to reach $150,000.

FORD PLAN HELP TO FAMILY FUND

New Weekly Purchase Plan to Aid Salaried Man Obtain Joys of Motoring.

"The Ford Weekly Purchase Plan is going to be a boon to many families and permit them to buy a car much quicker than they ever dreamed," W. E. Harvey local Ford dealer said today in discussing the new plan which is creating such widespread comment and which is being enthusiastically received everywhere.

"In my experience as a Ford dealer, and I believe it is true with every other dealer and salesman as well, I have met many persons who expressed their desire to own a Ford, and who frankly told me that somehow they never could get together enough money to make the initial payment on one.

"The result was, of course, that they went on wanting a car and hoping that some day something would turn up whereby they could get a car.

"Now that 'something' has turned up. The Ford Weekly Purchase Plan simplifies it all and makes it easier to come into the ownership of a car.

"It is constructive automobile buying in the simplest and easiest form and presents to countless families all over the country the long wished for opportunity of enjoying motor car benefits and pleasures.

"Right here in our own city it will be more than welcome.

"Take the family where, say, the father is not the only wage earner, but where perhaps a son or a daughter or two are at work. The family never has enjoyed a car, yet every member times without number has expressed a desire to own one.

"Under the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan there is no reason at all why such a family should not soon own a Ford car. If each member contributes just a little of his or her earnings each week it will hardly seem any time at all before the whole family will be enjoying a car.

"What is true of the family is true also of the individual who wants a car.

"And one of the most appealing features of the plan is that it is adaptable to the means of practically everyone. The weekly payments, which are deposited to the credit of the customer in the bank and draw interest at the regular savings rate, may be fixed to suit the desires of each purchaser. What could be easier than that?

Documentary Papers In Oil Fraud Cases To be held by Clerk

(By the Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, April 28.—All looks and papers and other documentary evidence in the hands of postal inspectors investigating alleged oil frauds must remain in the custody of the clerk of the federal court until after the trial of the owners of the books. This was made certain by order of James C. Wilson, federal judge, on motion of Henry Zweifel, United States district attorney, on whose request the order was passed. Mrs. L. Seiler, a woman oil operator, formerly ranked in the millionaire class, stated that she is the sole trustee of 12,000 acres belonging to her husband's estate and expressed her willingness to hold for the protection of investors. She declared she did not do this to avoid indictment by the federal government but did it voluntarily.

TOURISTS READY FOR SUMMER RUN

Ten Millions of Motorists to Take to Open Spaces This Season.

More than 10,000,000 tourists will answer the call of the great open spaces and take to the motor highways during the touring season of 1923.

It has been conservatively estimated that 2,500,000 car owners will take advantage of the splendid highways which have been constructed during the past several years and visit America's beauty spots to be found in almost every one of the 48 states and Canada.

By estimating that each car owner has four in the family including himself the total of over ten million tourists is conservatively arrived at.

Business institutions of all kinds will share in the great distribution of money which will be expended, and hotels, garages automobile accessory stores, department and clothing stores will all benefit thereby.

A number of cities are already making preparations to take care of the stranger within their gates, camp sites and parking grounds are being established, automobile club touring bureaus are preparing to extend reciprocal courtesies and furnish touring information and courteous treatment to motorists from other localities.

The National Motorists association through its touring bureau, is preparing hundreds of thousands of route cards, maps, and touring instructions which will be made available in all parts of the country.

The United States government is co-operating to the fullest extent and opening up national parks, building trails through the mountains and forests and providing camp sites wherever possible.

The National Park system has been extended and improved and the following parks will be open to the motorists in 1923.

Crater Lake, Oregon; General Grant, California; Glacier, Montana; Grand Canyon, Arizona; Hawaii, Hawaiian Islands; Hot Springs, Arkansas; Lafayette, Maine; Lassen Volcanic, California; Mesa Verde, Colorado; Sequoia, California.

Ada and East Central

The city of Ada is indeed proud to be the home of the EAST CENTRAL STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE. In having in its midst an institution of this character a very great duty has evolved upon the citizenship of the community: that of building a town to fit the high ideals which naturally emanate from such an institution and in providing an inspiring and wholesome environment, in which to spend their hours of leisure, for the students who are in attendance.

That the city of Ada is meeting its obligations is evidenced by the fact the College has had a surprising growth in its few years until today it ranks with the best in the country. This growth would not have been possible had not its instruction been thorough and the town in which it was located the right kind of community.

This Bank is proud to have been identified with every forward movement of Ada. It is proud of the fact that it is located in the home city of EAST CENTRAL. It is proud of the fact that many of the faculty and students are numbered among its customers.

HEAVY RAINFALL PLAYS PART IN CROP RELIEF

Excessive rainfall during the past week has caused slight damage in many lowland districts of the county while generally the soil has been thoroughly saturated and the drought situation for county crops solved for the period.

While some damage has been reported from unusual water rises in creek and river bottoms in the county, the rainfall of the past week has been considered a dire need and a direct benefit to the county as a whole.

One of the most important and needy benefits to be realized from the heavy rainfall in the county was the filling of the city lake, which will play an important part in relief of the water situation for manufacturing concerns in the city this year.

No serious washouts have been reported over the county as a result of the rains, while in many counties surrounding report of bridge washouts have delayed road communication.

Prof. Mac Millan's rain gauge registered a total of 3.06 inches during the week. On the 24th it was .22, 25th 2.00, 27th .64 and on the 28th it was .20.

ODD FELLOWS OF COUNTY ASSEMBLE

Interesting Speakers at 104th Anniversary Meeting of Order Here.

The Pontotoc County I. O. O. F. held its regular semi-annual meeting at Ada Friday. This was also the 104th anniversary meeting.

Due to the rain the attendance was not as large as usual, but several lodges of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from other places in the county were represented.

After dinner had been served at noon by the Ada Rebekahs, an open meeting was held at the First Baptist church. After some musical numbers, Rev. F. G. Davis, pastor of the Christian church, offered an invocation. Tom D. McKeown delivered an address of welcome. The principal feature of the program was an address by Thomas G. Andrews of Chandler, past grand master. Mr. Andrews is a forceful speaker and being extremely well posted on Odd Fellowship, his address was full of interest.

A business session was held at the I. O. O. F. hall at 4 o'clock. Both the Odd Fellows and the Rebekahs conferred degrees at 8 o'clock after which a banquet was served by the Rebekahs.

Selection of the next meeting place was deferred for the time being, but it is reported that it will likely go either to Stonewall or Francis.

Farmers Elect New Officers for Year at Saturday Meet

The Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union for Pontotoc County met at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on East Main Street Saturday afternoon in a business meeting. Officers elected for the ensuing year are: W. A. Peck of Center, president; Homer G. Burch of Bebee, vice president; T. F. Beller of Route 5, Ada, secretary-treasurer; and J. O. McMinn, Route 5, Ada, chairman of the executive committee.

The delegates were given a welcome by Congressman Tom D. McKeown, who discussed the recent legislation in the national congress in reference to farm loans. His speech was both interesting and instructive, the delegates report.

Thirty-seven delegates were present, representing eight of the fourteen locals. The Union meets the second and fourth Saturdays of each month in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Rowell Not Guilty in County Court in Indictment Charge

With a verdict of not guilty in the case of R. B. Rowell, charged with selling whiskey to an Indian, the county court closed one of the most sweeping terms on record here Saturday and practically wipes the pending list of old cases from the docket.

Charges against Rowell were not upheld when he was placed on trial here Saturday.

The disposition of the Rowell case with several others, practically clears the list of grand jury indictments returned by the Pontotoc county grand jury in session here January 15. Thirty-three indictments on misdemeanors were filed in county. Pleas of guilty were obtained in many of these cases in this session of county court.

SUMMER TERM AT EAST CENTRAL STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE BEGINS MAY 28

LARGEST ATTENDANCE IN HISTORY OF COLLEGE LOOKED FOR

278 CLASSES DAILY IS PLAN

STUDENTS TO COME HERE FROM ALL PARTS OF THE STATE

The East Central Teachers College at Ada is closing its regular year with an attendance of nearly 1200 students. In the past the number of students in the summer term has usually doubled that of the regular term. It is, therefore, very likely that the attendance this summer will approximate 2,400.

Additional Instructors Provided

In order to take care of this throng of students the State Board of Education has employed thirty-six additional instructors for the summer term, making the total instructional staff in the College sixty-six. In addition to the work of the regular year, the College will offer practically every course listed in the Teachers College bulletin, and there will be 278 classes daily. In many of the subjects it will be necessary to have several sections of the same class, and this will enable every student to take the subject that he needs to apply on his certificate, diploma, or degree.

Registration

Registration will begin at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, May 23. Students should classify Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Class work begins Monday, May 28. Prompt registration is necessary in order that the students may complete the full work and receive credit to apply either on a certificate course or on a Teachers College Curriculum. Students who have credits from other institutions should bring these credits with them. Those who wish to apply for advanced standing should consult Mr. Newcomb.

Object of Summer Work

The Summer Session is designed to meet the needs of several classes of students:

1. To enable those who need certificates for Rural Schools to get the academic subjects and the professional training courses required for County Certificates.
2. To offer work for renewal of certificates.
3. To enable the regular students to begin their college work or advance themselves in their college work.
4. To offer advanced work to teachers who have already received their life diploma.
5. To offer courses of instruction to progressive teachers in order that they may be enabled to do better work in the school room.
6. To enable students to do one half of one semester's work in either the Preparatory or College Department.
7. To offer highly specialized work in Drawing, Public School Music, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Rural Sociology and Junior High School.

History

East Central State Teachers College held its first summer session in the summer of 1910 with an enrollment of 302 students. In 1922 the enrollment, exclusive of pupils in the training school, reached 1609. The growth of the summer school has been steady and consistent. Multiplying its enrollment by 5 in 11 years is a record that few summer schools in the Southwest have equalled.

It is now conceded that one of the most valuable means of training teachers while in service is the summer school. East Central's summer school this summer will be by far the largest in its history, and every effort will be made to make it the best as well. We shall do our best to assist teachers to prepare themselves for work in every type of school in Oklahoma.

Location

Ada, the home of East Central, is a town of 10,000 people. It is readily accessible from all parts of the district, being located in the geographical center of the district, and having three railroads, the Frisco, M. K. & T., and Santa Fe. It is easily reached from any point in the eleven counties of the district. Ada is the largest town in which the state maintains a summer school. This insures ample boarding and rooming facilities at convenient distances from the Teachers College. There never has been any difficulty in supplying good board and rooms in private families at convenient walking distances from the College at Ada. The price of board and furnished rooms will range from $5.00 to $7.50 a week. A limited number of rooms for light housekeeping are also available.

Admission

Students who have completed fifteen units of high school work in a standard high school may be admitted to the collegiate department of the Teachers College without further examination. Students who have completed the eighth grade may be admitted to the preparatory department. Many teachers who have families will find it convenient to come to Ada for the summer where they may put their children of elementary grade in the training school, and out of town people will be given the preference of filling these places.

Credits

The normal amount of work that may be taken during the nine weeks of the summer term is eight semester hours, or one-half of one semester's work. Students in the preparatory department may complete the equivalent of one unit of high school work. Students of exceptional ability may complete work slightly in excess of the amount stated above, but all applications for additional work must be submitted to the committee on advanced standing. This committee will not consider favorably any applications for additional work unless the student making the request has shown exceptional ability in his work here in the past. Students whose grades do not average 85 per cent or more need not apply for more than the amount of work stated in the beginning of this paragraph.

The Placing of Teachers

Boards of Education in need of qualified teachers should communicate with Mr. R. R. Robinson, chairman of the committee on recommendations. This committee has succeeded in serving the needs of many Boards of Education by bringing them into communication with qualified teachers. It will be the purpose of the committee to recommend specific persons for specific positions.

The Training School

The Training School will be in session during the Summer term. About 120 pupils ranging from the first to the eighth grade will be admitted. In admitting pupils into the Training School preference will be given to those who live outside the city of Ada; that is to say, those whose parents are in attendance at the College, and who desire that their children attend during the summer session.

Band

The Teachers College has an excellent Band. Those who come to East Central should come prepared to join this organization, especially if they have had some experience in playing in bands. Students who have musical instruments at home should bring these with them. Instruction in band is free.

Orchestra

The College maintains a good student-orchestra. It is the aim of those in charge of this organization to develop a taste for that which is best in music and furnish practice in playing high class music. Instruction in this department is free.

East Central's President

Under Dr. A. Linscheid's Administration, East Central Has Grown to be Equal in Size to any Other State Teachers College and Superior in Service Rendered.

College Grows Out of Stormy Past

Newspaper Man Views Early Struggle of East Central College's Rise to Educational Prominence.

Only those who have kept in touch with the educational life of the community can appreciate the improvement that has been made in scholastic circles, says W. D. Little, who was a member of the first faculty of the East Central State Normal school now East Central State Teachers college. Mr. Little came to Ada when the school was first started, as head of the English Department and remained in that position until the spring of 1914 when he went into newspaper work.

"I do not care to say much about the struggles of the school that first year," Mr. Little says, "as the 'watchful waiting' at times became 'nervous waiting.' The school, as all the old timers hereabout know, started without any appropriation for salaries or maintenance, and we oftentimes wondered if we were to receive any money or were merely teaching for the glory of the cause."

"The thing that appeals to me is the place the school has filled in raising the educational standard of the counties grouped around it. While Oklahoma, when admitted to statehood, had the best people in the world, the school system naturally was in a formative state. Many school houses were poorly constructed and the qualifications of the teachers poor indeed."

"Please do not get me wrong in this. The teachers were conscientious and did the work as best they knew, but they had not had the opportunity to study and really prepare themselves. The first summer session of the school demonstrated this fact forcibly."

Normal Help to Teachers

"The coming of the Normal permitted these same teachers to continue their studies for several months in the year and keep up their work in the schoolroom as well. I happen to know several teachers who were working in the schools in 1909 and who have continued to teach, but now they have college degrees and are yet giving the state service—a service rendered by proper training."

"Of course a teachers' efficiency cannot be judged entirely by diplomas or degrees, but it is equally certain that without proper training even the best teachers cannot render efficient service."

"In this part of the state there are now college trained men and women in all the high schools and in most of the rural schools. The schools have been thoroughly graded, stress put upon agricultural training and better living and in general the pupils now have a much better chance to learn the things, which will be useful than those did who came up twelve or thirteen years ago."

"Gradually this school has become the educational center for the eleven counties in the district. Having only one function to perform and that to turn out well trained teachers, it has been doing that work and doing it well, increasing in efficiency as the years have gone by. It has created the demand for better teachers and has supplied the demand."

Different From Other States

"There is a distinct difference between the conditions in Oklahoma and many of the older states. States like Tennessee, North Carolina, Texas, and Missouri have dozens of well established, endowed colleges and universities. There are in North Carolina, for example, nineteen accredited colleges supported by private funds. These schools every year turn out scores of teachers who go into the schools. While there are a few denominational colleges in Oklahoma, there were almost none at the beginning of statehood. The teachers had to be trained, and it was up to the state to train them."

"Now that the state colleges are well established, they will continue to do the work. Private schools were created in the older states before the public appreciated the importance of properly trained teachers, and even these states are now establishing teachers' colleges, in spite of the existence of the private schools. All private and state colleges are not able to more than meet the demand for trained teachers for city, town and rural schools."

Changes Remarkable

"It is a wide space from the first year of the school with no building and no appropriation for salaries to a well equipped college with four buildings, beautiful grounds, an attendance of more than 2,500 a year, and with a faculty that is far above the average. It is interesting to watch the working of the institution each summer now and compare it with that first summer back in 1910 when the work was done in the High School building."

"What explains this phenomenal growth? Vision, ideals, service. The school has prospered because it has had at the head of it, since its beginning, men of vision, high ideals and a realization of the kind of service a teachers' college ought to render. Add to this fact that each head has been fortunate enough to have around him a faculty loyal to these ideals and you have what is necessary to build an educational institution. Not as many changes have been made at the local college as have been made at some others, and this fact has helped wonderfully. I notice that frequent changes in a faculty or in a head of an educational institution will injure its services more than almost any other thing. 'I cannot see anything but a bright future ahead for the college.'"

DURANT—Carter county, for the fifteenth consecutive year, carried off highest honors in spelling at the Southeastern Interscholastic meet here last week, with a 99.8 mark. Myrtle Crabb, Thelma Fisher, Allie Bigbee and Edith Collins made perfect scores, while the other member of the team, Martha Carter made the grade of 99. Entries in the contest included representatives from McAlester, Ardmore, Durant, Hugo and Healdton.

Additional Lecturers

Some of the ablest educators in the country will appear at the Teachers College this summer. Among those prominent in Oklahoma Educational circles who will address the teachers are:

Hon. M. A. Nash, State Superintendent.

Mr. C. M. Howell, Chief High School Inspector.

Hon. R. H. Wilson, former State Superintendent.

Charles Bridges, Department of Vocational Education, and others.

Growth of Institution

East Central was established in 1909. In the thirteen years of its existence it has had an encouraging growth, as the following figures indicate:

1912	7	1913	16
1914	30	1915	51
1916	61	1917	49
1918	42	1919	45
1920	67	1921	72
		1922	129

Pupils enrolled in the Training School are not included in the foregoing figures. It is the custom to enroll from 120 to 140 pupils in the Training School each term. There is never a time when there are not more applications for admission to the Training School than can be accommodated in this institution.

Diplomas and Degrees

East Central was established in 1909, the first school year being the year ending with the close of the summer session in 1910. Since that time the number of graduates by years is as follows:

1910	6	1911	4
1912	7	1913	16
1914	30	1915	51
1916	61	1917	49
1918	42	1919	45
1920	67	1921	72
		1922	129

Early in 1920 this institution was authorized to offer work leading to the Bachelor's Degree. The first degree class was graduated in 1920, three students having conferred upon them the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In 1921, six students received their Bachelor of Arts degrees, and in 1922 the Bachelor's degree was conferred upon twenty students. Within two years after being authorized to confer degrees twenty-nine persons completed the course entitling them to degrees. This year at least thirty Bachelor's degrees will be conferred. The number of life certificates granted this year will probably be one hundred seventy five. This includes those who graduate at the close of the Spring term as well as those who graduate at the close of the Summer term.

Fees

Tuition is absolutely free in all departments with the exception of Instruction in Piano and Expression. Students must pay a Student's Enterprise Fee of $3.00 and a Library Fee of $1.00. The Students' Enterprise Fee admits to all Lyceum attractions and lectures and athletic games given under the auspices of the College. The Library Fee is charged to cover wear and tear on books used by students.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

SPIRITUAL WEAPONS:—For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the down of strongholds.—2 Corinthians 10:4.

GOOD WORK.

The News wishes to commend the successful fight of Senator Looney and Representative Brydia for the proper recognition of the East Central State Teachers College in the state legislature. At last the local school has been recognized by the legislature as one of the leading schools of the state, and the appropriations for it total a few dollars more than for any of the other teachers colleges, if we are not mistaken in the total figures.

With a large new building and with money with which to employ more members of the faculty, the local institution ought to almost double its effectiveness in the next two years. Dr. Linscheid feels that it has a bright future and the citizens of Ada have learned he does not speak without knowing. We believed the teachers of this entire district will rejoice over the new opportunities given to East Central.

PROGRESSIVE LEGIONNAIRES.

The American Legion is to be congratulated and commended for the efforts put forth to raise funds with which to furnish their rooms in the Memorial Building when it is completed. We believe every citizen should cooperate with the members and officers of the Legion by attending their functions and thus help along a worthy cause.

The Norman Howard Post is also receiving much favorable publicity with its semi-monthly Legionnaire. This publication, it said, stands a fair chance of becoming the state paper. If this is done, the local post will have an opportunity of service greater than any other in the state.

The organization deserves the support and encouragement of every citizen and organization.

WHY GO TO CITIES?

The direst poverty, the most suffering, the worst crimes and the greatest wealth are found in our large cities. There also taxes are higher and the best things in life, like association with friends and fellowship with kindred minds, are missing. Why then do people go to the larger cities like New York and Chicago? That question has never been satisfactorily answered and yet they continue to go.

If we are not badly mistaken the time will soon arrive when the people will begin to realize the advantage of engaging in business in cities of 100,000 and under. Even manufacturing enterprises may locate in rural sections in order to give employment to men and boys and girls when they are not occupied with farm work. This latter is an idea of Henry Ford.

Before the war the United States was a debtor nation. Billions of surplus European capital was invested in American railroads and other enterprises and it took a heavy balance of trade in our favor to keep up interest and dividend payments to these foreign investors whose holdings were constantly increasing. Now, however, all this is changed. It is stated that besides the allied debts to the United States government, Europeans owe Americans $5,000,000,000. American capitalists have invested extensively in some parts of Europe and hereafter this will bring a large sum annually to America, unless the European nations go to the ditch. Even Russia has been making overtures for American capital, but the record of the soviet has not been such as to inspire confidence.

The German government in its usual course of blundering has killed the goose that laid the largest golden eggs that have been found in that country, the tourist trade. By making travel as difficult and annoying as possible and then taxing the tourist out of everything he brought with him, the travelers, who formerly spent millions in the country now give it a wide berth. The result is empty hotels and a great falling off in trade in all lines. The sight seer is not losing anything, for he can go where a more cordial welcome awaits him, but the Germans themselves are raising quite a row about it.

The record of business mortality in the United States for the month of February, 1923, shows a decrease of 618 or 29 per cent in the number of failures and a decrease of $8,582,558 or 17.4 per cent in the amount of liabilities from the totals recorded for January, 1923, according to a bank bulletin. The February, 1923, totals were also far below those of the corresponding month in 1922, indicating a decrease of 823 or 35.3 per cent in the number of failures and $31,980,454 or 44 per cent in the amount of liabilities.

The latest method of fighting the boll weevil is suggested by a Georgia man who says that if ordinary flour is sprinkled on the leaves the dew will make it into dough and the hungry weevil trying to make a meal on it will choke himself to death. Poor weevil.

ILLITERACY IN THE SOUTH

(Oklahoma)
Representatives of the fourteen southern states will meet in Little Rock, April 10-11 to discuss the problem of illiteracy in the south.

The south has an illiteracy problem which cries for solution. In the fourteen southern states, more than 3,000,000 men and women and children over 10 years old can neither read nor write.

Most of the illiterates are men and women. The task of teaching these is an especially difficult one, because of the lack of facilities for adult instruction.

To teach illiterate adults the following plans have been suggested: New and better ways of utilizing the public schools for adult instruction, employment of lecturers to address communities which are difficult of access and the improvement of highways.

Some persons fail to obtain an education because a lack of passable roads makes it impossible for them to go to school. Inasmuch as permanent highways are so valuable for other reasons, also, the fact that they promote education of the people should cause the southern states to speed their highway programs.

Good roads would make far easier the task of providing adult instruction, not only through the public schools but by means of libraries, lecture courses, etc.

In every district of every state, the public schools should be utilized to instruct the adult illiterates. Every community should have the advantage of a traveling library. This could be furnished by the state, as is done in Oklahoma. Lecture courses might also be provided through the state department of education—the lectures being prepared for the special purpose of instructing adult illiterates.

The state should do all they can to eliminate illiteracy, not only as a means of increasing the happiness and the efficiency of the illiterates but of raising the general level of intelligence of the citizenry and thus promoting the welfare of the nation.

Country Press Remains American

(Sulphur Times)

Once again we have driven home the fact that the safeguard of American liberty rests in the country press, appealing as it does to sixty millions of American people, reflecting their honest thought, and presenting to them basic facts in a plain, neighborly way that defies the inroads of the great metropolitan newspapers. The American country newspaper, thank God, does not stand constantly at attention in what uniform it is dressed.

When our boys were fighting "over there" the patriotic hysteria of the city's newspapers knew no bounds. They broke their editorial necks vying with each other in denunciation of the Hun. Circulation demanded patriotism and patriotism paid. With peace, however, readers dwindled, and then the business office took the saddle. New York, Chicago and one or two other big centers contain America's German population in mass formation. The number of French folk is comparatively small. The answer was obvious, particularly to a press ready to burn its honor on the altar of added readers. No time was

DEFEAT OF LAW'S CABINET MEMBER IS SEVERE BLOW

Sir Arthur Sackville Trevor Griffith-Boscawen.

The recent defeat in the Mitcham bye-election for parliament of Sir Arthur Sackville Trevor Griffith-Boscawen, is regarded as another serious slap at the administration of Premier Bonar Law of Great Britain. Sir Arthur is minister of health in Law's cabinet and in accord with Law's tranquility policies lost to make a point for the devastation of her lands. The German reader must be had at any cost. In the twinkling of an eye some of the big city newspapers turned 'bout face without a blush, and they played their cards practically if not knowingly in partnership with the German propagandists.

Were it not for the steady influence of the country press, which keeps its feet on the ground—were it not for the calm judgment of the plain American people in the small towns, the dangerous dominating position in this country. Fortunately for America the country newspaper declines to pander for a reader. The country newspaper refuses to be led into the bylines of foreign intrigue. The country newspaper is an American institution and it will remain the bulwark of our liberty.

YOUNG SWEDISH PRINCE MAKES CRITIC'S BEBUT

(By the Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM.—A royal prince as a paid dramatic critic is the latest sensation in the literary world of Stockholm. Prince William, second son of King Gustaf, has been appointed staff writer for Idun, the leading Swedish weekly for women. His debut as critic was hailed as a success, and he has covered several first performances of new plays in the Stockholm and Gothenburg theaters.

The prince has already made his mark as one of the notable young authors of Sweden. He has published several volumes of poetry and some of his verse has gained considerable popularity by being chosen for public recitals. He has also written a number of short

ITALIANS OUT IN SPRING FOR OIL

Mussolini Heads Delegation to Promote Interest in Oil Production.

(By the Associated Press)

ROME.—Wildcatting for oil is to become an established Italian speculative activity.

The absence of any mineral oil production throughout the Italian peninsula has caused the government to consider means for the discovery of any oil deposits within the borders. A ministerial committee, headed by Premier Mussolini, has been formed to promote proposals for the development of oil lands. The committee has already held several meetings.

Italy's need for her own oil and her absolute dependence on importation of oil from abroad has been given weighty consideration by every ministry. The importance of oil, especially in time of war, has urged itself upon the present government with the result that the newly constituted ministerial oil committee intends to give all the encouragement and assistance possible in the discovery of deposits.

The committee is expected by a system of subsidies and premiums to foster the formation of oil companies to undertake drilling. Little or nothing is known of any oil deposits in Italy at present. Many of Italy's public men have constantly contended that there are mineral deposits in the volcanic strata, and that among these deposits is oil. Meanwhile, the Sindacato Nazionale Combustibili, an Italian development corporation, has already started negotiations for oil lands in Albania, England and America. Companies also have been negotiating for oil concessions, but, as yet, that government has concluded no contracts with foreign oil companies. The Italian corporation expects, through diplomatic channels, to secure the consent of the Albanians to drill. It has approached the Italian government asking its aid and protection in the development of Albanian oil and requests the right to build the necessary oil stations in Bari, Brindisi and Venice. It has also appealed to the government for a royalty on every ton of crude oil shipped into Italy.

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Says glass of Salts helps to overcome Rheumatism Acid

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kinds.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. adv.

COST REDUCTION OF CLOTHING ON

Retail Clothiers Plan Means of Bringing Slash in Overhead Expense.

(By the Associated Press)
 CHICAGO, April 28.—How to get clothing to the customer at the lowest price, or in other words a lesson in the reduction of overhead expense similar in character to an abbreviated university course will be offered to everyone who attends the tenth anniversary convention and exposition of the National Association of Retail Clothiers which will be held here during the last week of September.

According to the arrangements made by Charles E. Wry, executive director of the association, everyone who addresses the convention will place particular emphasis upon this important subject.

"The retail clothing dealer who favors high prices, if there still exists such a merchant," said Mr. Wry while discussing the preparatory work of the convention and exposition, "is standing in his own light. We have had one sad experience with high prices not so very long ago, and it taught us a lesson. High prices don't mean big profits to the dealer by any means. In fact they mean just the opposite. What we are endeavoring to do all the time, and what we are going to emphatically drive home to everyone who visits our convention and exposition, is that reasonable prices brought about by economy in overhead expenses, such as rents, efficiency in handling goods and other incidentals to the handling of clothing, mean reasonable profits and satisfied customers."

"A careful survey of the clothing industry by qualified experts resulted in this conclusion, and this lesson is going to be taught at our convention and exposition morning noon and night."

Greek Army and Navy Throw Out Foreign Tutors

ATHENS, April 28.—Greece's army, navy and police will no longer be under foreign tutelage. For reasons of economy the government has decided to abrogate its contracts with the British naval mission, the French military mission, and the Italian police mission, granting their members six months' pay in lieu of notice.

The only mission remaining in Greece now is the British police mission, under Sir Frederick Halliday, which has been here since 1919 and has done good work in reorganizing the Greek police on the lines of the London police force. The government's decision will be a severe blow to the foreign naval and military missions, whose members drew not only salaries from their own countries, but from the Greek government as well.

MAGNA CARTA DAY TO BE OBSERVED IN STATE

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28.—Observance of Magna Charta day, June 15, has been proclaimed by Gov. J. C. Walton, who called upon the people of the state, "in common with those of all other states of this union and with the British Empire," to celebrate the day as the anniversary of the birth of the liberties of the English-speaking race.

"The magna charta has long served as the one sure foundation for those liberties our state and nation enjoy, along with all of the other English-speaking nations of the world which believe in civil and religious liberty, freedom of press and speech," the governor said in his proclamation.

"There are increasing evidences of growing indifference to the preservation of these liberties, without which popular government itself would be a failure and the teachings of Thomas Jefferson a mockery," the proclamation continued. It recalled that the magna charta was signed June 15, 1215.

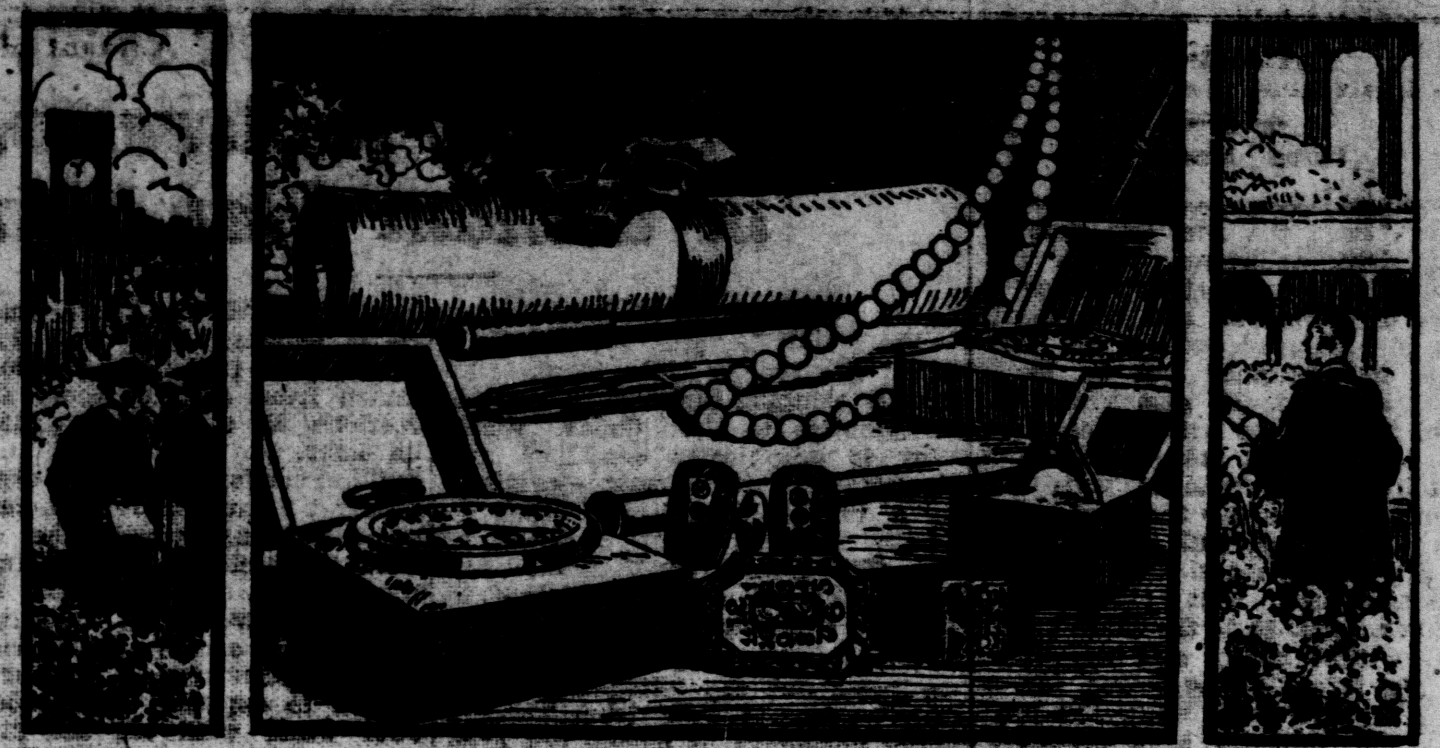

"I herewith ask the churches and Sunday schools of the state to hold appropriate services the third Sunday in June, calling attention to the importance and magnitude of a celebration that gives promise of cementing a feeling of unity and kinship among the English speaking people of the world on the basis of those fundamental liberties handed down to us by the forefathers of our race," said the governor.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Howell

The "swat the rooster" time is almost here and many people will either pen their roosters for several weeks or else cook and eat them. With a pressure cooker a very tough old customer can be made quite palatable. If egg producers expect to keep the price of eggs up to a paying level there must be a united effort to produce none but infertile eggs during the warm season. A fertile egg will spoil quickly and egg buyers make allowance for losses from this source when they buy eggs. It is the poor grade of eggs that really sets the market. An infertile egg keeps for a long time and the greater the proportion of infertile eggs produced the better the market will be.

Hughes county is to have a home demonstration agent for a few months, evidently to see what sort of results she will get and learn if the work is worth what it costs. Of course a short period is no real test of the work, but people in Pon-totoc county who have seen the interest built up by Mrs. Duvall during her several years can assure Hughes county that it will make a mistake if it does not continue the work. The housekeepers of Pon-totoc county recognize their agent as a most valuable friend and are ready to follow her instructions in matters affecting the household. The same may be said of the young people's clubs under her care.

On the other side J. B. Hill has rendered inestimable service as farm agent. Farmers are skeptical of a "book farmer," but in the case of Mrs. Duvall and Mr. Hill they recognize the fact that they are dealing with people who know what they are talking about. I think I have observed as closely as the average man the various changes that have taken place in this county during recent years and I must say that some long forward steps have been taken. We are far from the limit of progress yet, but I am very well satisfied with what has been done during the past 15 years.

RHUBARB CREAM PIE.

A spring-time dessert—and so palatable! Sift together 2 tablespoons of corn starch, 1 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Pour over this 1 cup of boiling water and cook it slowly until the boiling point is reached, stirring constantly. Add the grated rind of 1 orange, 1 cup of finely cut rhubarb, 1 tablespoon butter and the yolk of 2 eggs beat on until thick. Turn this mixture into a pie plate lined with pastry and bake it 25 minutes in a moderately hot oven. Cool it and then spread with a meringue made from the whites of 3 eggs and flavored with 1/2 teaspoon of lemon juice, browning the meringue delicately before serving the pie.

Bolt Weevil Outlook.

Death messages do not often bear good news but from the winter camps of the boll weevil comes the cheering information that the weevils have fared worse this winter than they did last winter.

Since Oklahoma has been definitely admitted to the ranks of these states acknowledging boll weevil infestation, the entomological department of the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station has made it a rule each fall to enclose a certain number of weevils in cages, duplicating as nearly as possible natural conditions that are usually selected by weevils for spending the winter. During the latter part of March and the first of April these cages were opened and the number of weevils living and dead were counted.

Very Few Pulled Through.

One cage located in the southwestern part of the state in Pushmataha county counted March 14, before the bad cold spell of March 25 showed 362 dead and 34 living weevils, or nearly 90 percent. The cage in Bryan county at the very southern tip of the state counted March 23, after the freeze showed 347 dead and one living. The cage in Pottawatomie county, central Oklahoma, counted March 28 contained 312 weevils dead and one living. The Payne county cage at Stillwater near the northern edge of the cotton belt showed 368 weevils dead and one living.

Comparing the countings before and after the freeze, there is some indication that while the cold spell was getting the oats and fruit back a notch or two it was doing some good in killing off the boll weevils. In other years, however, a larger percentage of weevils actually lived through the winter in the Pushmataha county cage than at any other point, so that too much credit must not be given the cold spell for its good work in destroying boll weevils.

A report issued by W. E. Jackson, acting entomologist at the experiment station, makes this estimate: "Calculations based on the counts after the last cold spell will perhaps be more nearly accurate and show that two-tenths of one percent of all boll weevils going into hibernation under artificial conditions in the fall of 1922 in Oklahoma were living the latter part of March."

A similar report made a year ago after only 100 weevils had been placed in each cage to spend the winter showed no weevils still living in any of the cages with the exception of the one in Pushmataha county where 2 percent were still alive. For the test just closed 500 weevils had been placed in each cage.

After making some careful comparisons and figuring the situation out rather definitely the report adds: "The conclusion would be that boll weevil damage during the season of 1923 will not be as great as that of the season of 1922."

It is also somewhat encouraging to note a report from the United States Department of Agriculture stating that investigations made in northern Louisiana indicate that

Mighty Crowds Pack New York Subway to Assemble in Gotham Play House

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 21.—The "sardine" life led by playgoers who nightly struggle their way in crowded subway to the Great White Way is graphically described and characterized as "almost alarming" in a report issued by Nelson P. Lewis, formerly chief engineer of the City Board of Estimate and Apportionment, recently retained to study the problem.

When smiling Broadway managers hang out the "Standing Room Only" sign, as they frequently are doing nowadays, it means not even standing room in the subways, the report discloses with sometimes as many as 900 passengers over a capacity load trying to get on every train leaving through each of the five tunnels that lead away from Times Square.

Failure of the city to limit the number of public halls in any given area, as is done in London and other old world cities, is blamed by the report for the condition.

"Between 38th and 51st streets and between Sixth and Eighth avenues," says the report, "there are no less than 78 theaters. Their combined seating capacity is 95,000. Forty-four of them, with a capacity of 55,000, are within a circle having a radius of 1,000 feet from the center of Broadway and 42nd street.

"Assume for a moment that of these 55,000 amusement seekers, 35,000 come from the Times Square station between 8:00 and 8:30. From this station Interborough and Brooklyn Rapid Transit trains run both north and south, while a shuttle train runs to the Grand Central Station and the east side Interborough line. If these 35,000 people were equally distributed between these five routes, it would mean that 7,000 people would have to be accommodated by each. Now if two-thirds of this total arrived between 8:00 and 8:15 and one-third between 8:15 and 8:30, it would mean that 4,700 people would arrive from each of these five directions in the latter quarter of an hour.

"The performances are over very nearly at the same time, and the period during which the crowds wish to reach the subway trains is considerably shorter. Let us assume, however, that they will be obliged to occupy the same half hour in dispersing. A ten-car train, loaded to capacity, holds about 1,300, while with all the standing room occupied to the limit of decency, it will hold 1,000. If, then, such ten-car trains left in each of these five directions every three minutes, it would mean that 940 passengers would try to crowd into these trains without regard to the number already on them.

"The conditions are actually even worse than this, as the shuttle trains, while they start from Times Square station and may be available for the theater crowd, are generally made up of less than one-half the number of cars assumed for the other trains.

"To visualize this problem a little more clearly, attention is called to the fact that the 95,000 people attending the 78 places of entertainment, when all seats are occupied, is more than equivalent to the combined population of Mount Vernon, New Rochelle, the Pelhams, Bronxville, Tuckahoe and Scarsdale. It is also more than the total population, men, women and children, of Montclair, Belleville, Bloomfield, Nutley, Glen Ridge, Cedar Grove, Caldwell, Essex Falls, Verona, and the remainder of the Borough of Caldwell.

"Another comparison is that the number exceeds the total population of Orange, East Orange and South Orange and is almost equivalent to the total population of Passaic, Clifton and Little Falls."

fewer weevils have come through the winter than any year since 1920.—Farmer and Stockman.

LOVE AND MOON HAVE SO MUCH IN COMMON

Says Bebe Daniels, Discussing Picture, "The Glimpses of the Moon."

What are "the glimpses of the moon" moments in life in Edith Wharton's novel, "The Glimpses of the Moon," pictured for Paramount by Allan Dwan, and which comes to the McSwain theatre for two days, beginning Monday next, they are the moments when love first blossoms to find fulfillment, moments that bind lives together against temptation.

But there are other "glimpses of the moon" moments, according to Bebe Daniels, who plays the role of Susan Branch, the heroine of the picture.

"Every time you do a charitable act; every time you accomplish something worth while, every time your thoughts are tempered with magnanimity toward your fellows, you experience what I believe to be 'glimpses of the moon' moments," explained Miss Daniels. "They are the moments when you feel the ecstasy of a full life and reach mental, spiritual and physical heights that lift you above the materialism of every day living.

"There is something about the moon when it shines in all its glory that brings a peaceful calm to those who look on from the earth below. It is this same calm that comes to lovers in perfect accord and of which Mrs. Wharton wrote that explains the meaning of the title of her novel, 'The Glimpses of the Moon.' We all seek such moments in our lives and some find more of them than others."

CITIES NOT LIABLE FOR COURT COSTS IN COUNTY

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 27.—A municipality is not liable for court costs assessed against it in county court handed down this week. The case was decided in favor of Oklahoma City against James Beatty, as court clerk of Oklahoma county, and a surety company.

Oklahoma City sued Beatty for $674.0 it claimed he had collected for the city in county court. The county intervened, admitted Beatty had collected that amount, but alleged the city was indebted to the county approximately $1,578.45 for costs in numerous cases in the county court, and that the amount Beatty collected had been applied on the city's debt.

In making its finding for the city, the high court affirmed a decision by Judge E. D. Oldfield, in the Oklahoma county district court. The opinion stated that the question involved in the case was whether a city is liable for costs in a county court in cases appealed to the county court from convictions in municipal courts for violations of city ordinances, where such cases are dismissed in the county court by the city or are tried in the county court and result in acquittal for the defendants.

The opinion stated that there is no statutory provision making a city liable to the county in such cases.

STATE PROUD OF NATIONAL GUARD

Oklahoma Boasts of Ranking Guard Force in Union, Markham Claims.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28.—Oklahoma now has the largest national guard force it has ever had, ranks well up among the states of the union in numbers and efficiency of units, and recruiting is proceeding at a faster rate than ever before, according to Adj. Gen. Baird H. Markham.

Before the world war Oklahoma had only one regiment, that an infantry unit which made an outstanding record overseas, General Markham said. When all units now authorized by the war department are completely organized, the state will have approximately six regiments in numbers of men enlisted. A divisional headquarters, for the 45th Division, has been allotted to the state and will be organized soon after units now being formed have been inspected by federal officers. The 158th Artillery regiment, transferred to this state from Arizona, is the most nearly complete of new organizations, according to the adjutant general. Headquarters company is now being formed at Sulphur. Other units of the regiment are being organized at Kingfisher and Bristow. The Kingfisher battery, enlisted by Capt. John B. McCartney, has been announced ready for inspection.

Prior to the present activity in recruiting, the state had four regiments in the national guard, two infantry and two artillery regiments. With the additional artillery regiment, a medical regiment, an engineer regiment and other units, the state will have parts of seven regiments and certain corps troops, the adjutant general said.

The engineer regiment's organization has begun at Wetumka where one company was inspected Wednesday night. Tulsa and Okmulgee will also have engineer units. An ordinance maintenance company has been organized and inspected at Claremore.

GUARD OFFICERS HOLD CONFERENCE

Meeting Called to Determine Final Plans for Annual Summer Encampment.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28.—A conference of rigid and regimental commanders and instructors of the Oklahoma national guard is under way today at the office of the adjutant general here to determine final plans for the annual encampment at Fort Sill, July 4 to 20. The meeting was called by Adj. Gen. Baird H. Markham.

Brigadier Generals Charles E. McPherrin of Durant and Alva J. Niles of Tulsa, commanding the infantry and artillery brigades respectively, were asked to attend the meeting. Others who were invited were Col. Charles F. Barrett, commanding the 179th Infantry; Col. Ewell L. Head, 180th Infantry; Col. William S. Key, 160th Field Artillery; Lt. Col. William A. Graves, 189th Field Artillery; Maj. Floyd J. Boland, Medical Regiment, 45th Division; Maj. Earl Patterson, U. S. disbursing officer; Maj. Milton H. Taubbe, senior instructor, and infantry and artillery instructors.

Between 4,800 and 5,000 officers and men will attend the summer camp this year as against some 3,200 in 1922. Adjutant General Markham said this week on his return from a vacation at Hot Springs, Ark. He expects the Oklahoma guard to take front rank among the state he said.

New units allowed the state under its divisional organization have not yet all been assigned, according to the adjutant general although more than fifteen organizations have been inspected within the last two weeks by state and federal army officers. A motor transport company is now being organized in Oklahoma City, and many cities are competing for other units, one of which is to be an iron, the assignment of which will field recognized by the war department.

General Markham characterized as "a wild dream" a rumor that he might resign his post to accept an assignment to the war college at Washington. He said that when he accepted his present office he cast aside all thought of other considerations and now has but one desire, to see the Oklahoma division thoroughly organized and topping the list among all state organizations for size and efficiency.

General Markham took over the duties of adjutant general before he had fully recovered from injuries he received while in command of the troops in the inaugural parade in January, and his recent vacation was taken at the insistence of his medical advisors. He now declares himself much improved in health and ready for the work of the summer months.

SUPERVISORS OF ROADS IN UNION

International Association Has Large Increase From New Provision.

(By the Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, April 27.—All railroad supervisors are now eligible to membership in the International Association of Railroad Supervisors, and by this action it is expected that the membership of the association will be increased almost immediately from 30,000 to 170,000 according to W. V. O'Neil, president of the organization.

The former name of the organization was the "International Association of Railroad Supervisors of Mechanics" and only supervisors of railroad mechanics were eligible to membership. Now, however, Mr. O'Neil pointed out, all railroad employees holding supervisory positions will be eligible as members. "The railroad executives have given enthusiastic approval to the new move," said Mr. O'Neil, as railroads will now be guaranteed constant supervision.

"In the past a substantial number of supervisors were unorganized and others were affiliated with organizations of employees other than our body, and under these circumstances it has not been possible to have any uniformity of action. Now, however, we are in a position to see that all supervisory positions are filled with experienced men, and this will not only help the roads but will also guarantee a certain amount of safety to the general public that heretofore has not been possible, as the supervisors are not only responsible to the railroads but are also responsible to us."

Mr. O'Neil announced that the executive committee of his organization had authorized the establishment here of a national headquarters for general headquarters of the association.

HUDSON BAY RAILROAD UNDER PLANS AGAIN

OTTAWA, Ont., April 27.—Work of completing the Hudson Bay Railway will soon be undertaken according to an announcement by Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways. The Canadian house of commons recently approved a proposal to institute construction of the last 100 miles of rail.

The road will extend from The Pas, Man., on the Canadian National railways, to Port Nelson on Hudson Bay, a distance of 434 miles. This distance 332 miles of steel have already been completed at a cost of $20,000,000. An expenditure of over $2,000,000 will be needed to complete the road, according to Mr. Graham.

The development of Western Canada will, it is expected, be greatly stimulated by the opening of the new route to tidewater. By way of Port Nelson, the road will shorten by 1,000 miles the railway haul of grain, livestock and other commodities bound for Europe from the prairie provinces.

The total assets of the foundation are nearly $11,000,000. The total amount now available for the five prizes to be awarded is $170,000. Last year's prizes were approximately $26,000 each.

The five prizes, according to the stipulations of the late donor, Alfred Nobel, are to be given annually to those who have during the preceding year rendered the greatest service to humanity in the fields of physics, chemistry, physiology or medical science, literature, and in the cause of peace and international friendship.

Valuable Information TO CAR OWNERS

The A-1 Filling Station has added a grease rack and is now equipped to drain and wash out differentials and transmission, which is just as important as washing out a crank case.

Keeping your crank case washed out means the life of your engine, while keeping your differential washed out means the life of your gears.

How long since your crank case was drained and washed? It must be drained every 500 miles in order to give the motor justice.

Immense Benefits Expected To Be Realized By Building Railroad to Alsakan City

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 27.—With the addition of a few last touches on a large steel bridge over the Tanana River at Nenana, Alaska, the government will practically complete the second largest construction job it has ever undertaken. This is the Alaska Railroad, which has cost approximately $56,000,000 was eight years in building, and which runs 467 miles into the heart of the territory from Seward, on Resurrection Bay, to Fairbanks, on the Tanana. By the end of June the construction force will lay down the tools for the last time. Trains are running the entire length of the road, and have been far about 19 months.

What the road will mean to Alaska and its people, government officials hesitate to say. The returns will be immense. The development of the territory's mineral resources and agricultural possibilities resulting from completion of a successful artery connecting with the outside world the entire year round, is beyond compute.

Annual revenues from freight and passengers already exceed $339,000, and as traffic increases with completion engineers see a revenue of almost a million dollars annually.

While Alaska is usually thought of as a land of gold and ice, its mineral production has been only a portion of its resources. Coal also is found extensively, as well as the slightly less valuable lignite; gas and oil have been discovered, and development has started only recently. The railroad penetrates these fields, and not only provides the rest of Alaska with fuel cheaper than can be imported, but may some day make them an important source for the nation.

The fisheries, timber industry and homesteading in Alaska's rich agricultural districts will all be benefitted through better transportation and cheaper rates on food and clothing. While the interior has heretofore been locked in tightly in winter except to sleds, the railroad will provide a ready exit to open water to the south during the entire year.

While the climate was one of the most formidable obstacles to construction, others as difficult were met and overcome. Even the winter freezing of the rivers was put to advantage to facilitate bridge construction. The thick ice was utilized to bear much of the false work.

Three long bridges were built. The first, across the Susitna River at Gold Creek, is a 500 foot span that cost approximately $943,000. The Hurricane Gulch bridge, buttressed against the rocky canyon walls, is 300 feet above the stream and has a span of 380 feet. The Nenana bridge, which is just being completed, spans the Tanana at that town over a 700 foot bridge which, with trestle approaches, is 1,300 feet in over all length.

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford. And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today. Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford Dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.
